Tim Scott's Constitutional Amendment legislation gets key vote in subcommittee today

Tim Scott's legislation to nullify the government-run healthcare legislation received a favorable 3-2 vote this morning in the judicial law subcommittee meeting at the State House.

In November 2009, Scott pre-filed the legislation would protect states' rights and individual freedoms from a government-run healthcare program. "The federal government's over reach is layered with problems, the biggest of which is that it is unconstitutional", Scott said to the committee, which garnered applause from those in attendance.
